

Sponsorship Opportunities

We offer packages on various levels that make it easy for you to donate books to schools that have requested Those Amazing Engineers for their classrooms. Or, if you have a specific school or school system that you would like to receive Those Amazing Engineers, call us with the information and we will assist in making the arrangements for you.

The sponsored school will receive information about your company or organization. Your company or association will receive a letter of acknowledgement from the publishers of Those Amazing Engineers and from the school or school district.
